The Speaker opened the meeting with a welcome to the traditional territory:
As we begin this Nipissing University Senate meeting, I would like to acknowledge that we are in the territory of the Robinson-Huron Treaty of 1850 and that the land on which we gather is the Nipissing First Nation Traditional Territory and the traditional territory of the Anishnabek. We respect and are grateful to hold this event on these lands with all our relatives.

REPORTS FROM OTHER BODIES

The President spoke to some of the broader institutional issues regarding our reaction to the COVID-19 pandemic. We continue to work with the government, colleagues and other universities to monitor the situation and make decisions as information becomes available as the pandemic progresses. Plans for the future will also unfold incrementally as information becomes available. The most dominant prediction is a 12 week cycle. We are currently at the fourth week of the cycle. There is no way to predict the outcome. We are working closely at different levels with our partners at COU. Enrolment in the fall is anticipated to be lower. Discussions will be held to determine if courses will be held on-site or offered on-line or a combination of the two. The President thanked all of Nipissing’s front-line, essential workers. The continued success of the University’s operations depends on the dedication and hard work of the employees who are working to keep our campus, our residences and our North Bay community safe during this time.

In response to questions regarding whether Senate meetings would be scheduled over the summer, or if a special meeting of Senate would be called to discuss academic decisions, the President advised that the Senate Executive Committee has authority to act on Senate’s behalf during the Senate summer recess period. A special meeting of Senate may be called at the discretion of the Chair of Senate or the Senate Executive Committee with at least 48 hours advance notice.

The Provost’s report was included in the Senate Agenda. A report from Casey Phillips, AVP Students, which includes information relating to student supports during the pandemic is also included in the report. In response to a question regarding whether accommodations will be available for students and staff that may require medical supports due to the virus, the AVP Students advised that processes are currently in place, but could be made more robust if required.

The Provost acknowledged that the university remains open, delivering on its programs and associated learning outcomes. Most functions of the university are continuing on schedule, i.e.; Senate and its committees, quality assurance reviews (4 underway), promotion and tenure processes, Chancellors awards, Teaching Chairs, research supports, institutional planning and research and Faculty Council (A&S). Graduate defences and CRC submissions are proceeding as scheduled on-line. An internal call has gone out for COVID-19 related research projects and there are many external research funding opportunities as well. Spring/summer courses, many of them Schulich School of Education and Indigenous courses, will be provided with technology and supports. The regular slate of Arts and Science courses are being offered on-line and enrolment is up. Accessibility will also be addressed. The Library has been working on identifying alternate materials and sources as well as copyright issues. The Provost advised that a survey had been sent out to faculty to find out what kind of supports are working. 300 surveys were sent out with 86 responses received so far. We are looking forward to receiving comments and feedback.

The Vice-President Finance and Administration provided a report. The report is attached to the minutes.

The Board of Governors Senate representative, Stuart Kidd, advised that the Board has been meeting remotely to keep abreast with what is going on and coming up. On behalf of the Board, he thanked everyone and advised that their efforts are appreciated and to please keep healthy and safe.

The report from the Alumni Advisory Board is attached to the Minutes.
NUSU VP Advocacy and Awareness, Charlotte Foster, provided a report. The report is attached to the minutes.

The Assistant VP Students, Dr. Casey Phillips, was recognized to speak. Dr. Phillips provided a written report advising of the supports and services provided through Student Development and Services through the first few weeks of transition during the COVID-19 pandemic. The report can be found following the Provost’s Report and will be included in the Senate minutes. Dr. Phillips thanked the NUSU executive for all of their excellent work, and advised that the students were a wonderful group and a pleasure to work with this past year.

QUESTION PERIOD

In response to a question whether there is a plan to accommodate and capacity to offer more summer courses if necessary regarding the relationship of spring/summer courses and drops from fall/winter courses, the Provost advised that the drop deadline was extended as the f/w term ended in an unusual way. As this information was not available to her in the meeting, she advised that any time a course can be fully subscribed, the course will be offered. The Dean of Arts and Science advised that the faculty is prepared to offer courses in the summer term if there is demand and that further discussions will take place with the chairs, coordinators and faculty council to determine this.

In follow up to questions raised in the May and December 2019 Senate meetings regarding NU’s Honorarium Policy for Elders and Indigenous Knowledge Holders (2019), NU’s Honorarium and Gift Certificate Policy (2009) and the payment structure for ELAS (Experiential Learning and Arts Program) and when information might be expected to be received, the Vice-President Finance and Administration advised that work has been completed and will be communicated in the next few weeks.

In response to questions regarding the nursing practicum clinical placements during the pandemic, the Provost advised that the university has a number of accredited placements and that recommendations are taken from the governing bodies and discussed by the faculty. The Dean of Education and Professional Studies also advised that discussions have been held over all programs and that competencies must be proven to rapidly changing information. It is understandable that the health care system requires more nurses during the pandemic, but we must wait until we receive word from the governing body.

In response to a question regarding the survey sent out to faculty and what steps are being taken to ensure that technology will be available for the fall, the Provost advised that this is a difficult scenario as some students will be on-site and some students won’t. It could be that courses are offered in a blended format. Technical issues such as connectivity and hardware are being addressed by the UTS Department.

In response to a question whether there will be an opportunity to re-visit the course master, i.e. experiential and lab-based courses, the Provost advised that conversations will have to be held to determine whether we go back to offering courses as usual or do we look at this as an opportunity to try different ways of organizing and offering programs?

In response to a question regarding fall enrolment predictions, the Registrar advised that while the f/w enrolment may be down, the Recruitment team is focusing on virtual conversion opportunities for prospective students, including live tours, virtual mock lectures and live Q&A sessions. She thanked the faculty who have participated in the virtual mock lectures. Staff is working to have high school grades in on time. Enrolment averages will not be decreasing. The Registrar thanked the faculty and staff for all of their hard work.
In response to a suggestion to have classes of over 30 students set up in different rooms and whether there would be extra money for TA’s to access people’s knowledge and skills, the Provost advised that this comment should be included in the survey comment section. There will be no extra money, and we have a very limited number of large classes at NU compared to larger universities. Once the results of the survey are received, the most pedagogically sound method of offering courses will be determined.

In response to a question regarding whether the Academic Advising office would be open over the summer months, the Registrar advised that students will be served remotely by email and telephone. Offering webinars to students is also being look into. It was suggested that the Academic Advising website be updated to reflect this.

FACULTY OF ARTS AND SCIENCE

A question was asked regarding the information that comes to the Senate as it relates to experiential learning courses where there is international study, placements, internships, or service learning. These kinds of courses when they are proposed do not currently provide information related to how students will be evaluated, who is responsible for the evaluation or oversight of the course, nor how much involvement Nipissing faculty have in them, which would be useful information for Senate to have. It was suggested that ARCC or another committee of Senate should consider which information in addition to the usual information required for new course proposals would be useful for Senate to receive when considering courses that involve international study, placements, internships, or service learning. The Provost advised that experiential learning takes many forms and reminded that workload is not considered a Senate matter. It relates to the learning outcomes and pedagogies. This issue has been discussed at faculty council and ARCC. The Dean of Arts and Science advised that the proposal has gone through faculty council, ARCC and ACC, and that she will work closely with faculty to determine workload.

A second question was also asked about credit to course hour ratios for three new course proposals on the agenda: CLAS 3415 Classical Studies Fieldwork in Classical Archeology, GEOG 4506 Professional Internship in Geography, and PHED 4606 International Experience. The question asked why these courses have significantly different credit to course hour ratios: CLAS 6cr/170 hrs, GEOG 3cr/60hrs, and PHED 3cr/36hrs. Concerns were expressed that there are a lot of inconsistencies. The Provost responded that she recognizes that that Quality Assurance uses a different language and suggested that the term non-substantive will be used for a minor modification or revision and a major modification will be indicated as a motion.

For academic oversight, a request was put forward that the pre-requisite changes concerning Classical Studies & Modern Languages listed as non-substantive motions be considered as substantive changes and be approved as an omnibus motion.

A concern was expressed that students don’t have to take the Macroeconomics course as a prerequisite. Professors also often waive the prerequisite.

S. Landriault (Senate Secretary)
1. During this crisis, the University remains open and in support of that mission, the Administrative team has been engaged in a wide variety of activities, the vast majority of them being handled remotely. We are serving our students in the Student Finance Office, our venders are being paid and we continue to purchase required items. Payroll is being processed and benefits are being administered. Our external relations office is assisting with a variety of communication pieces, both internally and externally and ensuring that our social media channels and website contain up-to-date information. Our IT Department continues to support employees who are working from home and the Facilities Department is coordinating access to the campus as well as liaising with Canadore College security services.

2. Many employees have been asking about gaining access to campus as the restriction continue and we are working on that – you should hear more about that next week.

As a reminder, in order to ensure we follow the direction of the Provincial government regarding restricted access essential services as well as protecting the health and safety of those essential workers who are required to be on campus, the following process is currently in place, if you need to access the campus to collect essential materials:

a) The requestor’s should first reach out to their supervisor or Dean with their needs. The supervisor or Dean will fully evaluate the request to ensure it is essential first.

b) The accepted request is forwarded to Facilities who will coordinate the self assessment portion through Michelle Banks in Human Resources for prevention and record keeping prior to coming on-site. Facilities will arrange actual building access, Security awareness AND most importantly, caretaking coordination to clean the areas visited.

c) If it can be arranged to have the requestor’s essential item(s) brought to Shipping & Receiving for pickup, that is much preferable. That has worked for a number of individuals already and avoids unnecessary exposure.

3. Budget Timeline – we are approximately two weeks behind in our regular budget timeline. We will be bringing a draft budget to A&F within the next few weeks. We recognize that this delay has also caused delays in decisions around hiring.
Nipissing University Alumni Advisory Board Report to Senate
April 17, 2020

- March NU Connections e-newsletter went out at the beginning of the last month. The focus for the newsletter was on the NUAAB gift to top up existing scholarships and bursaries, we also looked at research month events and a call to action for alumni to network and mentor through their connections on the NU Café hub.

- Early conversations have begun on how Convocation and Homecoming will be conducted this year due to the COVID-19 pandemic. When more details are formulated we will communicate those to you. In the meantime alumni relations has shifted focus slightly to continue to engage with alumni virtually through our social media channels, e-newsletter and ad hoc messages of togetherness. We are highlighting good news stories to bring positive thoughts to our followers. If you have good news stories we would love to hear them and share them with our alumni.

- Nipissing University Student Emergency fund was recently announced to provide urgent financial assistance to students unable to cover immediate, essential expenses as a result of the crisis. The fund has been established with funding from donors, with the Nipissing University Alumni Advisory Board acknowledging the importance of the fund with an initial commitment of $100,000. "As alumni of the University, the Board is committed to supporting students and is empathetic to the added stress, disappointment and financial hardship they are enduring," said Mitchell Crown, Vice-President, Nipissing University Alumni Advisory Board. “We felt that there was no better way to support our future alumni than to contribute to the Student Emergency Fund to ensure that this unique set of circumstances doesn't hold anyone back from reaching their goals. We hope this contribution inspires others in our Lakers community to contribute if they are able to do so.

- Alumni relations is operating at pretty much the same level as before this situation began. Everyday business except processing alumni cards is running as usual for now. We have created a document to track the work we are doing at home. Some of these tasks include updating/creating job manuals, web content updates, creating new recruitment and onboarding documents for NUAAB and updating alumni materials like the new grad handbook.

- We are encouraging virtual connection though the NU Café hub. Our most recent introductions went out at the end of March. We are also planning an office hours mentor chat in the next few weeks. To join the network please visit nipissingu.ca/nucafe

- Alumni awards nominations will be opening up May 1. If you know of an exceptional alumnus please consider nominating them for an Alumni Award today. Visit the website or email alumni@nipissingu.ca
NUSU Senate Report
April 17, 2020

NUSU’s Response to COVID-19
Since the COVID-19 outbreak, NUSU has been taking steps to continue to provide services to our students. Currently, all staff and executives are working from home. We have been providing a platform, through our social media, for students to engage with during this time of stress and especially the exam period.

Our student food bank is accessible every Wednesday in Chancellor’s House. We are thankful to Dr. Casey Phillips, Residence staff and Facilities for assisting us in this process. We are also extremely grateful to the Alumni Board for their significant financial contribution, as well as staff, faculty and community members who have made monetary donations or dropped off food items. For more information on how to support the student food bank, please contact our Director of Services, Warren Lindsay, at services@nusu.com.

Real Campus
As part of our response to COVID-19, we have extended our online mental health services, Real Campus, to all students who had originally opted out of the student health plan. Furthermore, we have set up numerous workshops for all Nipissing University students to attend hosted by Real Campus. These topics included: How To Be Productive At Home, How To Keep Your Stress In Check, and Dealing With Loneliness During Social Isolation.

Executive and Student Senator Elections
This past month, we held our executive by-election for the Vice-President of Finance and Administration position, along with our Board of Directors and Student Senator elections. We are pleased to announce that Sarah Pecoskie-Schweir will be returning as our EPS Student Senator and Charlotte Foster as our Arts and Science Student Senator. Thank you to Charlotte Foster and Tayler Sullivan for participating as NUSU Executives this past academic year.

Our executive team for 2020/2021 will be:
Hannah Mackie, President
Ward Loveday, VP Finance & Administration
Mykayla King, VP Advocacy & Awareness
Shannon MacCarthy, VP Student Life
NUFA and NUSU Book Recommendations
To help our students pass the time and increase self-care, NUSU partnered with NUFA to put together a list of book recommendations by faculty. This has been a great initiative and has had high student engagement. Thank you to the NUFA executives for engaging with this project.

Nipissing University Nursing Society
We wanted to recognize the Nipissing University Nursing Society, or NUNS, for highlighting alumni working on the front lines. We are so grateful to all of our alumni and current students who are working in positions such as in the police force, medical fields, grocery stores, as caregivers etc. It has been encouraging to see the Laker Spirit throughout all of this.

Student Emergency Fund
On behalf of NUSU, we would like to thank the administration, and all those involved, for putting together the Student Emergency Fund. We know that this time is particularly stressful for our students, especially as the question around summer employment approaches, but this fund has had a positive impact and we are so thankful to everyone for their support to our students.

Nipissing/ Canadore Relay for Life Club
Although this year’s Relay for Life event was cancelled our students still continue to work hard and fundraise for the Canadian Cancer Society. In total, the group has raised $25, 762 this year! We are extremely proud of these students and all their hard work and dedication.

Library

We continue to monitor voice and email and respond to library users with requests for assistance accessing materials and any other questions related to library use. We also continue our work at home on various projects and many usual tasks that we carry out.
Working with instructors to ensure that ways in which they use information resources in their online courses is copyright compliant; and working with instructors to plan for ways in which we can provide library support and instruction through the online courses.

Engaged in conversations and consultation with our colleagues throughout the province with respect to shared practices, services and resources and to plan and strategize ways in which those services can continue.

We have just reinstated Inter Library Loan Services on a limited basis. We will be able to provide some electronic resources to library users. While it is not the full Inter Library Loan Service, we will at least be able to provide some additional resources for library users.

Office of Indigenous Initiatives

- The Summer Indigenous Institute is a month-long summer pilot project with funding from the Ministry of Colleges and Universities. The students enrolled in the program (up to 40) will attend Nipissing University, Algoma University, Lakehead University or Laurentian University in fall 2020. Additionally, we are opening this year’s program to Indigenous students in grades 11 or 12, mature learners or college students who are considering attending university in the future. The Summer Indigenous Institute offers two first-year Indigenous Studies courses, ample holistic supports, peer mentorship and cultural/experiential learning opportunities to support the transition to university. The framework for support programming is aligned with health and wellness and rooted in Indigenous knowledge. The Summer Indigenous Institute will move to hybrid delivery with remote, online learning and support services in summer 2020 followed by a capstone experience on campus in fall 2020. We will provide technology to all students enrolled in the program to support their access to online courses and support services. Indigenous student employees are currently being hired to work remotely in support of the students in the program.

- Enji giigodyang, the Office of Indigenous Initiatives, is providing emergency food vouchers remotely for students and their families and continuing to support Indigenous students remotely through outreach and communication including connecting students to services on campus and in the community.

- The Schulich School of Education will be offering the Indigenous Teacher Education Program and the Indigenous Classroom Assistant Diploma Program online. The program timelines for completion may be adjusted given this change. The Principal, Indigenous Programs, is also meeting with partners for community-based delivery of the Indigenous Teacher Education (Bimose Tribal Council - Kenora) and Indigenous Classroom Assistant Diploma Programs (MTIE - Mamu Tshishkutamashutau/Innu Education – Labrador). Timelines and locations will be shifted for the programs in conversation with partners. Oshki Pimache-o-win: The Wenjack Institute (Thunder Bay) has made the decision to defer all Indigenous Classroom Assistant Diploma programming until next summer because of the uncertainty of when physical distancing guidelines will be lifted. They are not exploring online delivery of ICADP because of the many factors that may inhibit student participation living in remote, fly-in communities.

In Business Arising from the Minutes of the February 21, 2020 it was noted that the following motion to revise the policy on readmission into the Bachelor of Education program was tabled to be sent back to the Faculty of Education and Professional Studies for further discussion.

Motion 1: Moved by R. Breton, seconded by N. Black that policy 6.3 on readmission into the Bachelor of Education program be changed from:

6.3 Education
Students will be required to withdraw from the program if the second attempt at the failed course is unsuccessful. Students who are required to withdraw will not be considered for readmission until they have been out of the program for one year. Separate course offerings will not be available until the following academic year.

To:
6.3 Education
Students will be required to withdraw from the program if the second attempt at the failed course is unsuccessful. Students who are required to withdraw will not be considered for readmission. Separate course offerings will not be available until the following academic year.

Rationale:
Students often have the same experience: same professors, classes, placement areas. Students may have already had a second opportunity on placement.

CARRIED
A recommendation from the March 10, 2020 Academic Curriculum Committee to discuss the financial impact of one-credit courses was forwarded to the Academic Quality Assurance and Planning Committee for discussion. The Director of Finance, Renee Hacquard, was invited to attend the AQAPC meeting. It was advised that most undergraduate courses are three or six-credit courses, but one-credit courses are required to fill in the gap if students are short one-credit. It was suggested that the one-credit courses be offered in clusters as workload can be very challenging to assign. One-credit courses are offered in the BPHE and Business programs. One-credit courses in the BPHE program are often recreation courses, or skill related, “How to” courses, that are scheduled every year. It was advised that one-credit courses have been approved at ACC and Senate, and that this could be a great opportunity to offer courses to high school students or community members. The Director of Finance reminded of the importance of considering whether there are additional faculty costs or expenses involved, and advised that she will investigate whether the fee structure is different for community members taking one-credit courses.

Concerns were expressed that students would need to be aware of the course drop schedule, which could lead to more student petitions for late withdrawals and students making more overload requests. A question was asked whether community members taking one-credit courses would have access to services provided through NUSU. Further discussions with the Registrar’s Office, Finance Office, Deans and NUSU will take place to ensure that the policy framework and fee structure are strong enough to support offering more one-credit courses. A request was made to ensure that information advising that one-credit courses don’t count towards post-graduate courses is included in the course descriptions. This matter will be discussed further at future AQAPC meetings.

The Graduate Studies Committee requested that AQAPC review and discuss revisions to the School of Graduate Studies External Examiner Policy. The revised policy will offer clarity as to who is an appropriate, arm’s length external examiner. Following discussion and suggestions from AQAPC members that the language of the policy be broadened, it was agreed that this policy be tabled and sent back to the Graduate Studies Committee for further discussion.

The Graduate Studies Committee requested that AQAPC review and discuss revisions to the School of Graduate Studies Faculty Membership Policy. The revised policy will streamline the membership categories to simplify the governance of the programs and allow more faculty to take part. It was noted that some faculty members are not comfortable voting in areas outside their expertise. A concern was raised that membership will have to be managed so that not all members are non-voting.

Motion 2: Moved by G. Raymer, seconded by J. Abbott that the Graduate Faculty Membership categories be updated as outlined in the attached SGS Governance document. CARRIED Concerns were raised at the April 17, 2020 Senate meeting that revisions listed as non-substantive should have been included in the agenda as motions to be voted on. The Associate Registrar - Academic Policy and Advising, advised that the language in our By-Laws doesn’t match up with the language in the IQAP document. The Provost advised that we may need to change our language to match the IQAP document. She requested that the Registrar and the Associate Registrar provide clear text on non-substantive motions to be included under new business in the May 8, 2020 Senate Agenda.

Respectfully submitted,

Arja Vainio-Mattila, PhD

CARRIED

On February 20, 2020, members of the By-Laws and Elections Committee, the Registrar and the Associate Registrar, Academic Policy and Advising met to discuss the reorganization of the Senate Policies document and identify policies that should be included. A draft outline of the re-organized policies was provided. The document identified admission as well as program and degree requirements that are already found in the Academic Calendar. It was agreed that a policy framework be developed to identify who is responsible for the policy, when the policy was introduced and when the policy needs to be reviewed. Suggestions included a searchable on-line library of policies with links so that changes can be updated. The Registrar’s Office will work on developing the policy framework and report back to the By-Laws and Elections Committee.

The Senate meeting dates for the 2020-2021 Senate year were discussed and approved. The dates will be forwarded to the next Senate Executive meeting for inclusion in the April Senate Agenda.

The most recent faculty count was provided by the Human Resources Department. The Chair will determine the proportional representation of faculty required by each Faculty. The Senate Secretary will provide this information to the Deans’ offices once it has been determined.

As the term CASBU faculty no longer exists in the new CA, it was agreed that all references to CASBU be removed from the Senate By-Laws document. A discussion took place as to what category the Librarians fit in. A question was asked as to whether the Senate By-Laws should be based on the Nipissing Act. Dr. Tabachnick agreed to review the FASBU and CASBU language and craft language as to where the Librarians fit in, and report back at a future meeting.

A suggestion was made to identify the motions approved as omnibus motions in the Senate Agenda. For clarification the following language will be added: Motions 1-10, as omnibus, Carried.

Respectfully submitted,

The minutes of the March 3, 2020 Senate Budget Advisory Committee meeting were approved.

Under Business Arising from the March 3, 2020 Minutes, the terms of reference and the mandate of the Senate Budget Advisory Committee were discussed further. Background information, including recommendations from the Special Governance Commission Report, as to why the committee had been established was provided. Faculty committee members shared suggestions from their faculty constituents, and committee members provided their input as to how this committee could better serve its purpose.

Following discussion, committee members agreed that the mandate of the Senate Budget Advisory Committee include the suggestions listed below:
- Faculty members can assist with the budget from an academic view point;
- The committee can provide opportunities to receive feedback and advice from faculty members and students and act as a team to assist in the budget process;
- The committee can be an important tool to translate the financials to faculty members and students;
- The committee can provide an opportunity for faculties to identify priorities, i.e.: Indigenization and faculty renewal;
- Core academic issues such as workload could be brought to the table for discussion with the committee;
- The establishment of a mechanism to combine the academic planning process with the budget process, and figuring out how these two processes can be brought together to make decisions that ensure the academic continuity of our programs and academic life while keeping in mind the accumulating deficit;
- Next year the committee can identify the framework of the academic plan and determine longer term priorities that feed into the budget planning process;
- The committee can provide accountability and oversight;
- Information pertaining to the budget should be shared prior to decisions being made and final reports released;
- The committee has an advisory role where conversations can be had in good faith to make guideline types of decisions;
- Feedback from this committee is valuable as it provides clarity as to how the budget process identifies priorities that feed into the budget planning process.

Budget Process Update

The Director of Finance provided the 2020-2021 budget timeline. The timeline is attached to the minutes.

The Vice-President Finance and Administration advised that the budget update provided to the Audit and Finance Committee in early April indicated a 1.5 million deficit in the operating fund. The budget process update provided was a month behind schedule due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Many of the budget lines have not been finalized, but are anticipated to be confirmed in the next week.

The Provost advised that she would be interested in hearing feedback regarding consideration of courses being offered remotely in the fall. As there is a significant cost to develop courses for on-line delivery, this would require commitment from the faculty. Should funds be invested to offer courses that will only be taught once, or do we want to investigate developing on-line courses to further the sustainability of the university?

Committee members agreed that key times throughout the year be identified, starting in the fall, so that information and recommendations in regards to the budget can be shared. The Senate Secretary will schedule meetings in September, October, November, and December. These meetings will drive the budget process, the annual academic plan as well as the strategic academic plan that will be developed. Other Senate Committees will be a part of this process as well.

NUSU VP Finance and Administration, Tayler Sullivan, advised that Warren Loveday was elected as the NUSU VPFA for 2020-21.

The meeting was adjourned at 11:00 a.m.
