Annual Bursary Program

Part A: General

The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 23 Bursaries Program is designed to assist students entering or continuing post- secondary education at a community college or university level, including courses and programs of a technical, trade or vocational nature outside of the secondary school level.

Eligibility is based on enrollment in educational institutions or programs that are designated by the Province of Ontario as being eligible under the Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP) or a course approved by the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities. Applications for out-of-province educational institutions will be considered on their own merit.

Depending on the bursary being applied for, both part-time and full-time education programs may be considered. However applications for students enrolled in correspondence or 'distance' education programs will not be considered.

The general criteria for eligibility are based on one or more of the following:

- Acceptable admission status to a recognized post -secondary level educational institution or program,
- Current enrollment and successful completion of a prerequisite number of courses and/or semesters leading to a recognized degree, diploma or certificate from a recognized post -secondary educational institution,
- Documented financial need

The review of applications on the basis of need will give consideration, among other things, to the gross family income, the applicant's gross income, the number of dependents residing at home and/or attending a post-secondary educational institution, any special circumstances, tuition, accommodation and transportation costs, and any other factor having merit. Applications from mature students will be judged on their own merit in terms of financial need.

The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 23 and its Bursary Selection Committee reserves the right to authenticate all information pertaining to the application prior to any decision being given.

The responsibility for the completed form rests with the applicant. If the application form is presented for consideration without the proper information and endorsements, no consideration will be given to the application.

Applicants will be notified as to the decision of the Bursary Selection Committee and this decision will be final. Application forms are available at the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 23 office at the above address, at local secondary school guidance offices and at local post- secondary institution student affairs or registrar's offices.
